Paul R. Flora, AICP Fiscal Analyst & Principal Planner

Paul R. Flora is the Hillsborough County City-County Planning Commission's fiscal analyst, and chief architect of the FIELD model—a dynamic, multi-jurisdictional fiscal impact model that tests financial feasibility of comprehensive plans for Hillsborough County and the cities of Tampa, Temple Terrace and Plant City.

Paul's expertise draws on varied work experiences as a planner in Florida, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Virginia, as the regional economist for PNC Bank Corp., as an associate editor on the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette Editorial Board, and as an adjunct professor teaching regional economics and urban studies for the University of Pittsburgh and on a round-the-world voyage with Semester at Sea.

Paul lives a harrowing bike ride from his Downtown Tampa office with his wife, son, and youngest of three daughters.
